THEY ARE HUSTLERS.

The Work Already Done by the State Legislators This Session

BEATS THEIR PREDECESSORS.

Some Very Important Legislation is Still Pending.

THE GENERAL STREET RAILWAY BILL

In Conference Committee, Which is Eliminating the Magee Features.

The State Legislature has got through with a great deal of work so far this session. The legislators have refrained from overmuch speech making, and have got right down to business. As a result the work of this session is much farther advanced than at the same period of the last session. There are yet a number of bills pending, but all the more important ones will be passed upon before the Legislature adjourns.

FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.] HARRISBURG, April 28.—The business of the Legislature is much more advanced than at the same time last session, thanks to the manner in which business has been expedited during the past week. The Senate, since the return of the Appropriations Committee from its tour of inspection, has spent comparatively little of its time in delate and the gentlemen who are wont to practic their eloquence on the defenseless members of the House have given themselves over to oratory to a much less degree than usual. On Friday night the Senate cleaned its calendar, and the House calendars are being rapidly eleaned up. So busily is the work progressing that all Senate bills will be acted on, as well as the House third reading calendar and possibly its second reading calendar, which was temporarily suspended until its own more advanced calendar and the Senate bills could be disposed of. The appropriation bills, including the general appropriation bill, are all in the Senate's hands, and that body is pushing them rapidly. On Wednesday and Thursday nights the Senate Appropriations Committee labored with bills in its committee room and sent them out to the Senate in atches, where they were immediately put through first reading. On other matters the Senate has been similarly expeditious. PENDING LEGISLATION.

There is some important legislation pend-ing in addition to the general and special appropriation bills. The general revenue bill is now in the hands of a conference mittee, which will meet after the New York trip, to eliminate a Senate amendment which, after mature consideration, Auditor-General McCamant has decided to be ob-jectionable. Senator Hines employers' lia-bility bill is on third reading in the House, and is likely to pass, though there is evidence that it will be fought hard on final passage. Two important items of legislain that condition when the Legislature adjourns are Mr. Wherry's anti-discrimination bil' and his sinking fund resolutions. The granger equalization tax bill is in the hands of the Senate Finance Committee, The revenue commission resolution intro-duced by Senator Delemater, is the out-growth of the discussion over the bill, which is considered a crude measure, but with principles worthy of study. The granger tax bill is considered dead now, but the grangers think the revenue commission an acceptable compromise.

The general street railway bill is a most important measure, which is now in the hands of a conference committee. It will validate the charters of some 70 street rail-Court decision and will permit the construction of new roads which the same decision prevented. Many features acceptable to Mr. C. L. Magee were carefully and painstak-lngly kept out of this bill, and the conference committee is so constituted that it is not likely to admit them now.

THE SHIP CANAL ALL BIGHT. The Lake Erie and Ohio ship canal resolution having passed the House is now in the Senate, and will go through that body. The Legislature is merely paving the way-for Congressional action, but the intention of the Republican leaders is to at least solve the railway discrimination problem for Western Pennsylvania, and also for a large Western Pennsylvania, and also for a large cortion of the northwest and of those por-tions of the solid South accessible through the Ohio and the Father of Waters. The proposed canal will supply the missing link between these sections.

The soldiers' orphan question will be settled in some manner before the Legislature adjourns. The settlement will not be acceptable to even all of those who have the best interests of the children and the State at heart, but there will at least be some-thing approaching a fair compromise of dif-

The grade crossing bill, applicable to cities of the first and second classes, will be reconsidered next week. The Pennsylvania Railroad officials are so anxious to protect the lives of people in these cities that they are determined to put this bill through, even if it does shut out those wicked railroads which want to come in at grade, or on even terms with existing railroads.

The bill for the government of third class cities, having passed the House early in February, passed second reading in the Senate on Saturday, having been reported last week from the committee where it had so long slumbered.

Senator Brown's general road bill is on second reading in the House, but the whole vexed question of road laws will be gone over before the next session by the commission appointed under the provisions of Renresentative Foight's resolution. The next Legislature may, perhaps, with this aid, bring order out of chyos on this subject.

AN IMPORTANT LABOR MEASURE. Senator Hines' bill for the protection of women and children in factories is one of the most important labor measures before the Legislature. It has passed second reading in the House, where it was warmly dis-cussed and amended in some particulars. In all probability it will become a law.

The increase of the appropriation for the public schools by the House, on motion of ate Chairman Andrews, was very acceptable to the rural members, and revives in Colonel Bean, of Montgomery, the hope that manual training may, with the increase of sinews of war, obtain a foothold at last in the public schools. Full of this hope he will make another effort to have his manual training bill, with important amendments, passed. The increase of the salary of Super-intendent of Public Instruction to $5,000, for which Colonel Bean has been working, will probably not take place at the present session of the Legislature.

The much amended Fow bill may run up The much amended Fow bill may run up against a snag in the House. Mr. Brooks will object to it possibly, but Senator Delamater and Chairman Andrewsseem to favor it, and his feelings seldom run counter to theirs. The amendments to this bill as pointed out have already been before the Legislature. Senator Cooper's own idea of limiting saloons to not more than one to cach 500 of population was merely talked of before by him. It was never presented in a bill. Bepresentative Smiley's idea of per-mitting a liquor dealer to obtain his security from anywhere in the county is also included in the new Fow-Cooper measure. Mr. Smi-ley's bill was negatived in the House Com-mittee, but the highest Republican author-ity is now indorsing it. Likewise it in may be taken up again, but the time is short in which to pass it finally in the House and get it through the Senate to the

Dr. Walk's medical examiners' bill, after having been amended to that gentleman's great displeasure, is on the postponed list, and he wants it to die there. He will not call it up again, and the opposition is satis-fied to do without the law, even though it was amended to their liking.

Up to date 267 bills have passed finally in the House, against 145 at the same date last year; 96 House bills have gone to the Governor and 23 are ready to go, against 26 sent to him by the same date last year. There are 38 bills now on third reading, against 41, exclusive of appropriation bills, at the same date last year. The record of the Senate bills in the House at this time is as follows: Passed finally, 29; on first reading, 5; on second reading, 53; on third reading, 50. This record at this same date last year was: Passed finally, 11; on first reading, 14; on second reading, 98; on third reading, 32. The House committees negatived 40 per cent more bills this than last session. The Senate record on all these points is fully as good as the record of the House.

THE PROHIBITION AMENDMENT. Among the resolutions that have received the Executive approval, undoubtedly the most important is the one for the submis-sion of the prohibition smendment to the people, and the next in order is the one sub-mitting the Constitutional amendment abolishing the poll tax and reducing the period necessary to acquire a residence to 30 days. The other important resolutions are Authorizing a joint committee of two Sena-tors and five Representatives to take into con-sideration all matters pertaining to soldiers' orhar schools.

Requesting our Senators and members in Congress to favor a general service pension bill.

Requesting Congress to pass a law giving honorably discharged soldiers who were prisoners of war a pension of $12 per mouth and $2 per day for every day they were confined.

Authorizing a committee of three Senators and four Representatives to make a thorough investigation of the charitable and correctional systems of this Commonwealth, normal schools, Authorizing a joint commission to present to Congress the claims of the southern border counties for damages sustained from rebel raids.

Authorizing the Centennial Committee to invite the Governor and his staff and members of the two Houses to join the committee in the Washington celebration in New York at the Commonwealth's expense.

The Governor has received from the Legislature 123 bills, against 41 received by him at the same date last session, and he has given his approval to 66, against 30 at the same time last session. Fifty-two House bills reached him in one batch Friday, after baving passed the Senate. The majority of them were appropriation bills.

IMPORTANT BILLS SIGNED. The more important bills that have re ceived Executive approval are these: An act to authorize the election of constables

A RAILROAD TITLE IN DISPUTE.

The Cincinnati Southern Railroad to be Transferred to the City of Cincinnati. CINCINNATI, April 28.-The city solicitor has brought suit against the trustees of the Cincinnati Southern Railroad and the lessees of the road asking the Court to declare the trust terminated, to transfer the title of the lease of the road to the city of Cincinnati and to enjoin the trustees from extending the present lease as provided in a recent act of the Ohio Legislature.

The solicitor takes the ground that since October, 1881, the trustees have been acting without authority of law, and asks that they account to the city for the money paid them by the lessees since that time as compensation and expenses amounting to $12,000 a

A WORD ABOUT CATARRH, "It is the mucous membrane, that wonderful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and food passages, that Ca-tarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it eats into the very vitals, and renders life but a long-drawn breath of misery and disease, dulling the sense of hearing, trammelling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, tainting the breath and killing the refined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creepfined pleasures of taste. Insidiously, by creeping on from a simple cold in the head, it assaults the membranous limits and envelops the bones, eating through the delicate coats and causing infiammation, sloughing and death. Nothing short of total eradication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives are simply procrastinated sufferings, leading to a fatal termination, Sanyond's Radford Cure, by inhalation and by internal administration, has never failed; even when the disease has made frightful inroads on delicate constitutions, hearing, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughly driven out."

Castle: NEW CASTLE, April 28 .- The Republican primaries were held in the different voting precincts in this county yesterday, and resulted in the nomination of Jefferson T. Gleason for Register and Recorder, Dr. T. Gleason for Register and Recorder, Dr.
James K. Pollock for Coroner, and Robert H. McConahy for County Surveyor. As Lawrence county gives a Republican majority of 2,000, their election is certain. A very light vote was polled.

James A. Gardner, of New Castle, and Dr. John C. McKee, of Princeton, were elected delegates to the Republican State Convention.
